ST. LOUIS GETS IT

Captures Republican National Convention.

DATE FIXED FOR JUNE 16.

San Francisco Leads the Procession on First Ballot—St. Louis Steadily Gains Until Fifth, When She Is Declared Winner.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The Republican national convention will be held at St. Louis on June 16 next. That was the decision reached by the Republican national committee assembled here yesterday after spirited balloting lasting two hours. The fifth ballot stood: St. Louis, 29; San Francisco, 10; Chicago, 6.

The morning was spent in the balloting, the doors being open to the various contesting delegations. This concluded the committee began its afternoon session behind closed doors. An eager crowd choked up the corridors leading to the committee room and awaited the announcement of results.

The first important question of the afternoon was the fixing of the date of the convention. The executive committee reported a resolution favoring June 16. This was amended by Committee Chairman Lauman of Utah in favor of Aug. 18. There was sharp debate and Mr. DeYoung of California finally proposed a compromise between June and August, viz., July. The DeYoung and Lauman amendments were both defeated and then by a practically unanimous vote the date was fixed at June 16. Then came the main contest between the cities. There was much excitement as the ballots proceeded, the committee men from the interested sections hurrying about and seeking to effect combinations.

At the outset San Francisco secured one more than the 19 claimed from the first. The announcement of her lead was greeted with enthusiasm when it reached the outer corridors. The strength of St. Louis was somewhat greater than had been expected, while neither Pittsburgh nor Chicago made the showing anticipated. St. Louis gained steadily on each ballot, by drawing the votes of Chicago, but without avail. The first serious break occurred when David Martin of Pennsylvania led the Pittsburgh forces toward St. Louis. On the fourth and last formal ballot San Francisco forces broke for the first time, Michigan, Wyoming and Connecticut going to St. Louis. That settled it and gave St. Louis the convention. The choice was made unanimous on motion of Mr. DeYoung of San Francisco.

ANTI-TOXINE TREATMENT.

President of Chicago Board of Health Believes Firmly in Its Effectiveness.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Sanitary authorities and bacteriologists in this city have been interested in the statements of Dr. A. R. Reynolds, formerly health commissioner of Chicago, regarding his investigations as to the efficacy of the anti-toxine treatment for diphtheria in Europe and, incidentally, Willard Parker hospital, New York. Charles G. Wilson, president of the board of health, said yesterday: "As a layman I do not think that I can do justice to the subject. Permit me to say, however, that Dr. Reynolds is very much mistaken when he assumes that all the diphtheria patients in this city are brought to the Willard Parker hospital."

"Scarcely 10 per cent of the cases which occur are treated in that institution, and those who are brought to our hospital are of the poorest class, on whom the disease has taken effect for three or four to five days, and sometimes for a longer period. I am a firm believer in the effectiveness of anti-toxine."

President Wilson then referred to Dr. Herman M. Biggs, director of the bacteriological laboratories, for further information. Dr. Biggs is an enthusiast in regard to the benefits of anti-toxine and declares it to be a wonderful deterrent to the ravages of the dread disease.

After the Poolrooms.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 11.—John A. Payne of Payne & Sharp, proprietors of a Covington poolroom, pleaded guilty to an indictment for carrying on that business and was fined $1,500 by Judge Perkins. His partner, Sharp, was fined $500 and 20 days in jail a short time ago. The cases of five other poolroom sellers are to be disposed of.

Big Brooklyn Case Decided.

WHEELING, Dec. 11.—The big legal controversy in the United States circuit court of appeals here in which Mrs. Emily O'Connor sought to stay the sale of the Long Island Traction company's properties, was decided yesterday. Judge Goff refused to stay the sale.

Conference of Binetallie Leagues.

PARIS, Dec. 11.—The conference of the binetallie leagues of Great Britain, France and Germany opened here yesterday. The object of the conference is to draft a resolution regarding binetallism which will be submitted to the parliaments of the three countries.

Refused to Be Buried Alive.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Dec. 11.—Mrs. Markham was injured in a railroad wreck and apparently died. During the funeral sermon she burst open the coffin lid and sat up. She will recover.

Smallpox Raging.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 11.—Secretary Probst of the state board of health has discovered 13 cases of smallpox at Bridgeport and 11 at Martin's Ferry.

BOSTON CITY ELECTION.

Republicans Lose Control of Municipal Affairs in the Hub.

Boston, Dec. 11.—The Republican administration, which has been in control of municipal affairs for the past 11 months, were overthrown at the polls yesterday after one of the most spirited and hotly contested campaigns in the history of local politics, and Boston once more returns to its old position in the Democratic column. The Republican mayor, Hon. Edwin Upton Curtis, was defeated by 4,870 plurality, and all branches of the city government are Democratic, the Republicans losing control of the board of aldermen and school committee. Hon. Josiah Quincy, the successful Democratic mayoralty candidate, showed greater strength than even his own party expected and made heavy gains in nearly every section of the city. Over 75,000 voters went to the polls, the largest number ever recorded in an election in Boston, and representing over five-sixths of the total registration.

Results in Massachusetts Towns.

Boston, Dec. 11.—The annual municipal elections in Chelsea, Lynn, Lowell and Worcester were hard fought and in each case the A. P. A. figured largely. The Republicans and the A. P. A. carried Lynn and Chelsea, while in Lowell the secret organization met defeat.

FARM PRICES.

Report of Agricultural Department Shows Lower Prices.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The December returns to the statistical division of the department of agriculture relates principally to farm prices Dec. 1. The farm price of corn averages 26.7 cents, against 45.6 last year. The average price of wheat is 52.2 cents against 49.8 last year; of rye, 43.7 cents, against 50.3; of oats, 20.5 cents, against 32.9; of barley, 35.4 cents, against 44.3; of buckwheat, 49.2 cents, against 55.2 last year. The condition of winter wheat on Dec. 1 averaged for the country 81.4 per cent, against 89 last year and 91.5 in 1893. In the principal winter wheat states the percentages are as follows: Ohio, 74; Michigan, 79; Indiana, 80; Illinois, 79; Missouri, 76; Kansas, 80; Nebraska, 90; California, 103.

RENEGADE INDIANS

Reported to Have Murdered Another Family in Arizona.

DEMING, N. M., Dec. 11.—Another murder of a family is reported from the San Simon valley in Arizona by the renegade band of Indians from the San Carlos reservation. A German family, father, mother and three children, were slain near Fort Bower on Thursday following the killing of Merrill and daughter. The Indians were seen by some cowboys about the time of the Merrill murder and their number is estimated at 35. Nothing can be learned of the movements of the soldiers and cowboys' posse. A detachment of the First cavalry from Fort Bayard is stationed at Stein's Pass to prevent the escape of the band into old Mexico over the old trail.

The Mayor is All Right.

OMAHA, Dec. 11.—At the Cuban sympathy meeting Mayor Bemis announced that he would receive at his office anything in the form of money or promises and would see that it reached Cuba to assist the insurgents. Judge Dundy of the supreme court declared that if the mayor attempted to forward such contributions he would come in contact with the United States government and the goods would be liable to seizure.

Cured by "Healer" Schlatter.

NEVADA, O., Dec. 11.—Joseph Layman, whose lower limbs were paralyzed and who had not walked a step for five years without crutches, received a "blessed" handkerchief from Schlatter and is now apparently as well as ever. He goes about kicking up his heels like a young colt. He even kicks when his wife wants him to get up and build the fire.

The Housemiths' Strike.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—There was no material change in the housemiths' strike. Among the rank and file of the strikers there is no denial of their dissatisfaction at the way in which "strike" benefits were paid Saturday.

A Rip Van Winkle Sleep.

CALLS HIM DOWN

Barrett Wants Ambassador Bayard Impeached.

CITES THE VAN BUREN CASE

Ex-Speaker Crisp Objects to the Resolution, but Speaker Reed Overrules the Objection and the Resolution Stands.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Representative McCall (Rep., Mass.) offered a resolution in the house calling on the president to report to the house whether he had taken any steps to ascertain if reports of speeches of Ambassador Bayard delivered in England and Scotland were true, and, if true, what steps, if any, had been taken to recall or censure said Bayard.

Mr. McCreary (Dem., Ky.) immediately objected, when Mr. McCall's colleague, Mr. Barrett (Rep., Mass.), came forward to a question of privilege and sending to the clerk's desk had read a resolution for the impeachment of Mr. Bayard.

Both resolutions complained of Mr. Bayard's reflections on America's protective system as state socialism, and of his references to the United States needing a "real man like Cleveland" to govern "a strong, self-confident and often times violent people."

The Barrett resolution declared these utterances were in manifest disregard of proprieties and calculated to injure our national reputation, and directed the foreign affairs committee to examine the utterances in that speech and to draft and report articles of impeachment to the house.

Mr. Crisp (Dem., Ga.) objected to the Barrett resolution as not privileged, but Speaker Reed overruled him and Barrett made a brief speech, declaring Bayard sought to aggrandize his party at the expense of his country, and citing the senate's action in Van Buren's case as justifying his resolution.

The first vote on the Barrett resolution came on a motion by Crisp to refer to the judiciary committee, the motion being defeated on a rising vote of 80 to 206. The Republican program is to eliminate from the resolution the reference to impeachment and then to send the resolution to committee on foreign affairs.

The resolution was adopted after striking out the words directing the foreign affairs committee to report "by impeachment or otherwise."

A PLUCKY YOUNGSTER

Compels His Father to Quit the Saloon Business.

GAS CITY, Ind., Dec. 11.—The 16-year-old son of John Champion, a saloon keeper here, has long been opposed to the continuance of his father in the liquor business. On Saturday night there was a row in the saloon and the boy decided to adopt extreme measures. The house in which the saloon is located was left to the boy by his mother, and he locked the door and refused to surrender the keys. The father has no lease and the saloon remains closed. The people of the town are backing the boy and it is believed Champion will abandon the business.

ROBBED OF HIS CLOTHING.

Rough Treatment at the Hands of Two Masked Men.

VEEDERSBURG, Ind., Dec. 11.—At the Wabash bridge Edward Lilly was held up and robbed by two masked men. They even took his clothing, leaving him entirely naked. After bunding his hands and feet they placed him in his buggy and started his horse which took him home. He was found almost frozen to death the next morning.

Maxwell, 70, while attempting to alight from a Big Four train at Fairland, this county, was thrown violently to the ground and sustained concussion of the brain, a broken arm and a fracture of a lower limb. She has been brought against the railway company for $4,000 damages, negligence being alleged.

Schlatter Was a Lunatic.

CARDON, Ind., Dec. 11.—John R. Kofel, who knew Francis Schlatter in Switzerland, says the "healer" was in an asylum there 18 months when he was released as cured. He suffered a relapse and was returned to the asylum, where he remained for many years, finally running away and coming to America.

H. C. Prahl's Heirs Will Receive Four Thousand Dollars.

Fred H. Prahl, administrator of H. C. Prahl, deceased, filed a report in Probate Court today stating that a settlement had been agreed upon between the C. H. & D. railroad company in the sum of $4,000. The deceased was killed in October, 1895, by being run over while coupling cars. Toledo Blade.

The Mount Lebanon Shakers recently performed a great deed of charity, although it was not designed as a charity, being nothing more nor less than an advertising scheme. It, however, resulted in great good just the same. They gave away 1,000 bottles of their Digestive Cordial to those suffering from stomach derangement.

It was so effective in curing those who used the remedy that they were told in their praise of it and in consequence a large demand for the cordial was at once created.

The druggists of this town have little books that tell all about it. Digestive Cordial creates an appetite, aids digestion and brings about a rapid increase in flesh and strength.

LOS ANGELES

One of the Most Beautiful Spots on Earth.

A Former Lima Boy Tells of Its Beauty and the Lima People Who Are There.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 7.—(Correspondence.)—Los Angeles is one of the fairest cities on the globe. It has a lovely climate and everything earth owes helps to form the contrast of beauty. The ever blooming flowers are in profusion and along the principal streets you may trample upon choice calla lilies or chrysanthemums, crocus, hyacinths, narcissus and other numerous plants, which, as an ornamentation, the city spares no end of energy to cultivate into blooming beds. The perfume is very noticeable almost in any part of the city and coupled with the acres of orange fields which are as a giant tube rose in fragrance; also the lemon and lime command their portion of attention in the delicacy of aroma. I consider Los Angeles a Garden of Eden on earth, where one can arrest the choicest and, as a rule, very rare plants and shrubs. The principal feature of this elegance is the warm climate. One may look, although, in most every direction and discover snow. This is up on the mountains which tower as high as 600 feet above the city. This supply of snow insures the lovely valley below a never ceasing supply of the best water nature provides—it is as cold in summer as ice and runs continually through channels of irrigation which is a boon of importance in itself, otherwise a greater portion of California would be as worthless as the American desert of Nevada. It is only a fair question of time until every inch of available land will be watered and bloom with boundless burdens of fruit, of which the State is noted. California is a State from upon first sight after entering its portals a continuous orchard or vineyard, untold acreage adapted to cultivation of deciduous trees, while not altogether small in producing among the first in citrus fruits. There are places which command the prominence over Spain and Italy, right here in our glorious California which ripens oranges one month ahead of our foreign sister Republics, and this alone adds the close scrutiny of many shrewd capitalists to realize on their hoards of money. They become interested in horticulture and to a success they have developed a greater part of available lands by the use of the abundance of water the Sierra Madre mountains possess as means of irrigation. Do not become impressed that it does not rain here. It is so strangely regulated although, that the only time which it rains is in the winter months. In the spring, summer and autumn it is as dry as tinder here and allows the producers of fruits to prepare as a dry house the broad acres of land upon which he lays his trays made to hold the fruits and in the intense heat of the poor man's blanket his fruit becomes so nicely dried and can go through a clean process of evaporation by a line of changes which a great many are doing to discard the extra cost of dry sheds and the fuel for evaporation. It is a continual walk through flowers and fruit farms as one desires to see the out lying landscape and is so much of pleasure that one becomes absorbed in ecstasy that he wanders as a nomad through miles and miles of admiration, unconscious of the elapse of time. I have been fortunate in meeting numbers of Ohio people. Among them are great many old Lima people who have been located here for several years, in all branches of business, from farming to bee raising, and sight-seeing, beneficially inclined as to demands of health, and others are progressing in the staple markets there. Another feature soon to demand the attention of capital, is the as yet infant oil field which, undeveloped, has a prominence to attract many, the great object as yet to fathom is the question of transportation. The producers have formed an exchange with the intention to keep above ground, but it is a plain thing to see that they are in no way benefiting the market. Without some combined interest to propel its transportation by sea into ports of manufacture, it is a question, although said to aggregate an enormous sum to equip a line of steam ships to haul it and the pipe line and pumps, of which it would require a number, owing to the very sluggish nature of the oil. It has been experimented on by Mr. Edwards, who was the first to go into the Lima field and analyze the Lima fluid. He finds it of a very light illuminating gravity, but as a lubricant it is excellent, with a vast per cent. as leaving of asphaltum. The field is only very feebly developed, and to a curious adventurer it is as a machine shop, so to speak, for there are many cases where they have a wall on a fifty foot lot. The engine of a drilling well occupies the derrick house of the one previously completed. It is a sight to see them all in motion with the jack system of pumping and cables of opposite wells running through the derricks. People who own beautiful residences and have the most lovely lawns that ever laied out of doors, disfigure their handsome appearance by moving the residence and lay waste the beauty of their property by 4 oil wells. The product of wells average about 125 barrels each, daily. Some flow more, and as a rule they find the sand at 800 to 850 feet. The oil producing sand is of a very loose nature and caves very easily. If in case they would use 50 or 120 quarts of glycerine here, they would be compelled forever more to sand pump the well, and afterwards abandon the job as a failure, for it is impossible to drill in many locations with a slack screw. It necessitates a cautious and tight line to guard against caving. They case clear down and use perforated casing. As a rule it takes as long to complete a well here as in Ohio, where they have hard pounding clear down. It would be a chance for the boys experienced if they should conclude to go to the tide water with their fluid for shipment. It is this case it would necessitate the erection of storage capacity, and the tanks would undoubtedly be made of iron. The field storage tanks are made of red wood lumber of 1,000 barrels capacity. I will cease on the subject for this time, and speak of the appearance of O. P. Kinzie, behind a counter in a meat shop, with a white apron up to his chin, which looks uncommon.

To those who are accustomed to seeing him on the 185 shoving cars around the P. R. yard, his place of business is on Pasadena Ave and Davis street, and can herald to his many well-wishing friends in Lima of his proving a success as a butcher, as well as an engineer. He is as jovial as ever, but has a very determined look as you near him—which I suppose means a determination to succeed in his new venture of only a week's duration. Then another surprise I had yesterday. Walking down street, an elderly gentleman passed me whom I thought was Mr. Beebe. I thought I would speak to him, and if I was mistaken I could go over on the other side of Los Angeles and beg pardon; but my calculations were all right. He looks as fine as silk, but Mrs. Beebe is very poorly.

I have lately enjoyed an excursion through the mountains and Antelope valley in the capacity of a "hunky"—the way of speaking here of a helper in any kind of work. While among these grand old pillars of granite one becomes enraptured in thought, and wonders whether it was ever intended that man should be privileged the task of truly describing their beauty. Nature has so arranged this gallery of wonders that to ordinarily explain it to those who have no idea of its wonderful sublimities would be impossible. I will tell you why. You may be facing the east or any other direction where your observation is centered on any one point of interest—say a huge precipice, thousands of feet deep—and on the edges of this are overhanging rocks or boulders which seem only to balance. Elevate your vision still further up in front of you and behold an open space or a canyon, and in the distance as far as you can see almost can be outlined the foothills, covered with a coat of green much resembling velvet; and then as the atmosphere changes you see a haze below, then it thickens to fog, and you can hardly make out that you are above the clouds until your sense of realization returns. It places a person very far from being able to thoroughly picture the real beauty of nature. The one thing to baffle you in your attempt would be this—that as you arrange your visions you find a deeper change at each time, from the hill to the low mountain and up to a still higher elevation until you reach timber line. This is at an elevation of 11,000 feet, and above this you gradually leave vegetation till you enter upon what is void of soil, nothing but the most barren of rock or granite; then up to the line of perpetual snow. A fall in barometer in the valleys below signifies snow on this barren peak above. We witnessed some of the coldest of weather while up there last week yesterday. It snowed like fury, which made it very uncomfortable for the boys who came out here to avoid the wintry elements. But thank goodness, I am to-day where there are no traces of the chilling blasts of winter. The sun shone very warm all day, and this evening after attending Epworth services I went out with the usual street apparel—no overcoat, remember. Anybody wishing an equal climate to winter on would do well to join the Lima delegation, with headquarters in the land of sunshine, fruit and flowers.

When most needed it is not unusual for your family physician to be away from home. Such was the experience of Mr. J. Y. Shenck, editor of the Caddo, Ind. Ter., Banner, when his little girl, two years of age, was threatened with a severe attack of croup. He says: "My wife insisted that I go for a doctor, but as our family physician was out of town, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved her immediately. I will not be without it in the future." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Melville Bros., next to Post Office. C. W. Heister, 58 Public Square.

Edison's Idea.

For 14 years Elias Howe worked and worried over the sewing machine before he made it go. The trouble was that he could not conceive of a needle with its eye in the point, but along to the old fashioned notion. At last the true solution came to him in a dream, it is said—the needle with its eye in the point. So the experimenters through long years have tried to make flying machines on old models. Something that imitates either a balloon or a bird is the utmost they can conceive of apparently. They seem to be as far from success as Elias Howe was when he tried to build the sewing machine needle with its eye in the head.

Edison has the nearest thing to an original conception of a plan to navigate the air. His idea is not new, it is true, being that of a blimp ship, with sails and ballast, but the way he would make it rise and move is new.

Mr. Edison declares that the aeroplane will never be a success because it is so heavy it cannot be managed; neither will the car upheld by a gas balloon, because it cannot be steered. He would cut the knot by making the sails gasbags. There would be a mainsail, topsail and jib. Each of these would be simply a bag of gas in the shape of a sail.

When they were inflated, they would cause the ship to rise. Once in the air it would be propelled by the wind, just as a sailing vessel in the water is. By means of the sails it could be steered and controlled precisely as the ship in the water is. Thus he would dispense with all batteries, steam engines or other motive power and trust to the wind. If one wished to go very fast, he could rise higher from the earth. And he thinks, Edison does, that the time will come when we shall have yacht races between Valkyries and Defenders in the air.

The break in prices of the Chicago newspapers is notable. Except New York, Chicago is the most expensive of the large American cities to live in, and yet all its morning papers, including The Tribune, Times-Herald and Inter Ocean, have been put down to 1 cent a copy on weekdays. If they can sustain themselves and make things pay at these rates, it will be because Chicago business men are among the heaviest advertisers in the world.

A writer in an Austrian paper says that Prince Bismarck's family is of Bohemian origin, and that the name was originally spelled "Dusehek."

What a vast deal of time and ease that man gains who is not troubled with the spirit of impertinent curiosity about others.—Anon.

MERELY AN INDISCRETION.

Comment of London Times on the Bayard Speeches.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—The Times this morning has an editorial commenting upon the action of the house of representatives at Washington relative to speeches made in England and Scotland on the policy of protection by United States Ambassador Bayard, as follows: "Speeches such as those made by Mr. Bayard would not be delivered by a European diplomat, and even in Mr. Bayard's case they are rather surprising. Nevertheless, impeachment seems a very disproportionate punishment for what, at the worst, is an indiscretion."

ROBBERS WERE DROWNED.

Their Bodies and Booty Landed on the River Dam.

FAIRMOUNT, W. Va., Dec. 11.—At Opeka, Monongalia county, the store of Joseph Hood was robbed of about $500 worth of goods. Yesterday an upturned skiff and a lot of goods stolen from Hood's store were found against the Monongahela river dam, and a more careful search revealed the bodies of two unknown young men lodged in the dam. They had evidently been crossing the river when the boat overturned.

One Indian Killed.

PORT GRANT, A. T., Dec. 11.—News is received that the trouble on Cibola creek was caused by two deputy sheriffs sent by Sheriff Thompson of Globe to arrest two Indians of Alchey's band. They were returning to Globe with their prisoners. Later they were overtaken by a part of the band, who attacked them. A running fight ensued in which one Indian was killed.

Platt Men in the Lead.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Republican primaries were held in every one of the 1,892 election districts of this city last night to elect delegates to the assembly district convention, which are in turn to choose the members of the Republican county committee. The indications from last night's primaries point to a majority of two-thirds Platt men in the county committee.

Struck a Whale.

The monster was over 70 feet long. The steamer sustained no damage.

Anti-Semitic Crusade Condemned.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 11.—The Cincinnati District Association of German Evangelical Protestant Pastors has passed a resolution unanimously condemning Ahlwardt's American crusade against the Jews, and has appointed a committee to prepare a public protest against Ahlwardt delivering his lecture in Cincinnati.

Stonemasons' Strike.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—One thousand stonemasons, members of the New York Stonemasons' Protective and Quilt work yesterday. They claim the contractors have violated an agreement entered into last June by which the workers were to receive $3 per day and eight hours to constitute a day work.

Will Join the Cubans.

AKRON, O., Dec. 11.—E. J. Claffey of this city, who has served several years in the National Guard, has received the offer of a major's commission in the Cuban army. He will probably accept and expects to resign his office and leave for Cuba in a few weeks.

Treaty Approved.

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 11.—There is good authority for the statement that the treaty between Chili and Bolivia was approved by the Chilean senate at Santiago de Chile yesterday and by the Bolivian legislature at Sucre.

INTENSE SUFFERING

From Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble.

Instantly Relieved and Permanently Cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A New Discovery, But Not a Patent Medicine.

Dr. Redwell relates an interesting account of what he considers a remarkable cure of acute stomach trouble and chronic dyspepsia by the use of the new discovery, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

He says: The patient was a man who had suffered to my knowledge for years with dyspepsia. Everything he ate seemed to sour and create acid and gases in the stomach; he had pains like rheumatism in the back, shoulder blades and limbs, fullness and distress after eating, poor appetite and loss of flesh; the heart became affected, causing palpitation and sleeplessness at night.

I gave him powerful nerve tonics and blood remedies, but to no purpose. As an experiment I finally bought a fifty cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at a drug store and gave them to him. Almost immediate relief was given and after he had used four boxes he was to all appearances fully cured.

There was no more acidity or sour watery rising, no bloating after meals, the appetite was vigorous and he has gained between 10 and 12 pounds in weight of solid, healthy flesh.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are advertised and sold in drug stores, yet I consider them a most valuable addition to any physician's line of remedies, as they are perfectly harmless and can be given to children or invalids or in any condition of the stomach with perfect safety, being harmless and containing nothing but vegetable and fruit essences, pure pepsin and Golden Seal.

Without any question they are the safest, most effective cure for indigestion, biliousness, constipation and all derangements of the stomach however slight or severe.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are made by the Stuart Co. of Marshall, Mich., and sold by druggists everywhere at fifty cents per package.

DIED IN TERRIBLE AGONY.

Condition of Gertrude Hammel—Bitten while at work.

MORRISON, W. Va., Dec. 11.—Charles Hudkins, with several neighbors, was bitten by a mad dog a year ago. Last Friday symptoms of hydrophobia developed and Monday he died in terrible agony, strapped to his bed and frothing and snapping like a mad dog.

Worst He Has Ever Seen.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 11.—Dr. Alagorio of the Pasteur Institute of Chicago says the case of little Gertrude Hammel is the worst he has ever seen, and he fears the child was brought to him too late.

Two Men Bitten.

NEWBURN, W. Va., Dec. 11.—While Henry Shaffer and George Barnes, railroad men, were working at a wreck they were bitten by a mad dog. They were at once taken to New York for treatment.

The Cotton Crop.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The cotton crop is equal to 87.3 per cent of last year's, or 4,375,000 bales.

KENTUCKY'S GOVERNOR.

Tremendous Ovation Given the New Chief Executive.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 11.—Governor Bradley during the entire parade and ceremony received such an ovation as must have warmed his heart. As the military and clubs marched and counter-marched cheers rose from thousands of throats for the new chief executive. As Colonel Bradley mounted the inaugural stand he was given a reception which beggars description. His address was in part as follows:

The credit and honor of the state and nation are of first importance. The recent popular verdict which has declared in favor of the use of both gold and silver as money, but at the same time the maintenance of the best and highest standard, so that every dollar and 10¢ of equal value, should be accepted and adhered to; and while public credit should be protected, we should none the less favor a well-regulated system of protection to every branch of American industry, such a system as will encourage genius, nourish and increase diversified industries, maintain and enlarge a home market, and protect every honest son of toil from the degradation of competition with the pauper labor of the world.

Together with this should be fostered that reciprocity which will insure free exchange of our products with other nations for commodities which can not be successfully grown or manufactured in this country. The accomplishment and maintenance of these economic measures will develop our resources, advance our material prosperity and give to Kentucky the position she is entitled to occupy in the sisterhood of states.

Above all things the constitution and laws within its spirit must be enforced. Every citizen shall be protected in his liberty and property at whatever cost. I solemnly appeal to the people in every locality, and to the officers of the state for the energetic and fearless enforcement of the law. Nothing can be more effective in the suppression of crime than the cultivation and expression of a healthy public sentiment which will hold in just execration every criminal, more especially the murderer and assassin.

Non-violence, which has its birth in the breasts of cowards, should be prevented at all hazards, and if committed should be properly and severely punished. Such action is an open declaration of the want of confidence in the courts, and instead of promoting, deserves injury to the welfare of the state. The efforts of our law-enforcers should be to punish crime, not to apologize in a Christian civilization.

I shall do right, as God enables me to see it right; be just, as he enables me to determine what is just, and by the love that I cherish for the state of my birth, do all that within me lies to advance her prosperity, enforce her laws, protect her citizens and maintain her honor, remembering always that I am not governor of a party, but of all the people.

Tack to the Swamp.

SELMA, Ala., Dec. 11.—While Percy Bell and John Robinson were at work in a corn crib an altercation arose over a chew of tobacco, and Robinson shot Bell with a pistol, causing death in 30 minutes. The murdered boy is 10 years of age. Robinson took to the swamps.

Charge Him With Murder.

VAN BUREN, Ind., Dec. 11.—City Marshal Cartwright shot and killed Albert Heaslin who resisted arrest, and now Heaslin's relatives want the marshal arrested for murder because he had no warrant.

Scarlet Fever Raging.

INTUITION.

Prof. Steffens Reads a Paper Before the Lima Philosophical Society.

Late years have seen an important awakening in the study of Psychology, and a careful application of its principles to leading problems. The Lima Philosophical Society has been considering different phases of the subject, and last evening Prof. S. Steffens, of the Lima High schools, read a scholarly paper on the intuitions, treating the subject in its general application to the laws of thought with a careful review of the opinions of the best thinkers in this line from Aristotle to Sir William Hamilton and John Stuart Mill. The treatment of the subject was clear and forcible, and was especially so when it is considered the reconducive nature of the subject.

Dr. S. S. Mummaugh followed the paper with a discussion of application of the principles laid down by philosophers, to isolated cases.

Dr. R. J. Thomson, J. K. Brice, Prof. C. C. Miller and Prof. S. R. Williams also contributed valuable thought in their discussion of the paper.

ON A STRIKE.

Colored Laboring Men on the Lima Northern Quit Work.

About thirty southern colored laborers who have been working on the Lima Northern grade, north of this city, refused to go to work this morning, and came to this city for the purpose of airing their grievance.

The men have been working under Contractor Russell. Since the cold weather began they have been using a large amount of coal for fires in their camp and the fuel is being charged to them. They demand that the fuel be furnished free of charge, and quit work for the purpose of having their demand acceded to.

OIL AND GAS.

STILL GOSSIPING.

The excitement at LaRue over the finding of oil, is somewhat abated, but there is still enough to keep the price of land up, however. It was discovered yesterday that salt water was under the oil in the well which has furnished all the gossip. Word has been received that a party of Standard oil people would arrive in the course of a few days and would investigate the precious liquid. If it is found to be A 1 they will lease all the land in that section and will immediately sink more wells.—Merion Mirror.

DRY HOLES AT WAPAKONETA.

WAPAKONETA, Dec. 11.—The test oil well which was put down by the Roskies Oil company on the Jacob Paul farm in Van Buren township, Shelby county, turned out to be a dry hole. The drill was 62 feet in Trenton rock when yesterday evening the work on the same was abandoned. This makes the fourth well that has been put down in the neighborhood and proves beyond doubt that this territory, which last year was largely leased by oil men, is outside of the oil belt.

The Everett Scores Again

Prof. Clint Richmond wrote Porter & Son yesterday to tell them that seven months ago he purchased a Baby Grand Everett piano and had been delighted ever since with his purchase.

Prof. Richmond is an old Lima boy and one of the finest musicians the city ever produced. After spending a number of years in Chicago perfecting himself under the best masters, he was two years ago chosen musical director of Kokomo, Ind., college, which position he has very creditably filled ever since. He is certainly a competent judge of a good instrument and his testimonial is of value, yet it is only one of thousands of similar expressions of good will for the Everett.

EOPHONE TRIALS.

An Invention to Concentrate Sound in a Fog.

The recent delays in the arrival of ocean steamers at the port of New York and the detention of vessels in the great harbor from fog will be alleviated when the eophone, as its discoverer names it, has been brought into general use. The discoverer, or inventor, is Frank De la Torre of Baltimore.

Professor Henry of the Smithsonian Institution and Admiral Walker 20 years ago investigated, on behalf of the United States government, the nature and cause of those curious mists, in which fog signals cannot be heard. They agreed that the distance of the signal bell or whistle from the ship was not a factor. The direction of the wind and the density of the atmosphere, especially the varying density of alternating strata of air and fog, were found to exercise the most positive influences. De la Torre was already making his experiments at that time.

I asked Admiral Walker about the eophone and its name to commence. "It is a device," said he, "which concentrates and intensifies sound so that it can be heard at a greater distance than with the naked ear and its source located more quickly and exactly. It gathers sounds into a sort of funnel and brings it directly to the ears. If it is what the inventor claims it to be, it will save not only a vast amount of valuable time to steamers and sailing ships, but much property and many lives as well."

The United States light-house board is making exhaustive tests of eophones—one De la Torre's and another designed by Major Egan, U. S. N., intended to be an improvement on the first.

EFFICACY OF PRAYER.

It Saved a Ship When Out Upon the Waters With No Avail.

A most remarkable story of saving an ocean steamer by prayer was given out when the Northern Pacific steamer Tacoma arrived from China and Japan the other day. When 1,000 miles from Yokohama and near mid-ocean, a "twister" struck the vessel and all but wrecked it. The waves dashed over her, carrying away all the upper decks.

All control of the steamer was lost, and she went drifting about at the mercy of the big waves. Then she listed and the officers, losing hope, congregated in the surgeon's cabin and united in prayer. Several hundred gallons of oil had been cast upon the angry sea, but to no avail. Soon after the officers joined in prayer the storm subsided, the vessel righted itself and the officers cleared away the wreckage on deck and brought the steamer safely into port. No one was lost, and in the official chronicle of the battle with the cyclone prepared by Second Officer Smith, under direction of Captain Crawford, divine Providence is freely credited with saving the steamer and all on board.

Human Nature.

I am a great friend of human nature, and I like it all the better because it has had to suffer so much unjust reproach. It seems to me that we are always mistaking our conditions for our natures, and saying that human nature is greedy and mean and false and cruel, when only its conditions are so. We say you must change human nature if you wish to have human brotherhood, but we really mean that you must change human conditions, and this is quite feasible. It has always been better than its conditions and ready for new and fitter conditions, although many sages have tried to rivet the old ones upon it, out of some such mistaken kindness, would forbid the crustacean a change of shell. The state of the crustacean after this change takes place is perilous, but with all its dangers it is not so perilous as the effort to keep its old shell on forever would be. ## ON CRUSOE'S ISLAND.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING OF CREW OF THE BURNED SHIP PARTHIA.

One Steam Fresh Water, Leaves Out Plug and Finally Dies From Drinking Brine, Saved by Governor de Rod—Strange Coincidence of Fate.

The three masted ship Parthia of Bath, Me., sailed from Liverpool for San Francisco with a cargo of 2,400 tons of coal on June 25.

On her last trip Captain Charles G. Carter, a down east shipmaster, took charge of the Parthia, sailing with a cargo of American wheat for Liverpool.

When the ship was about 1,000 miles out on the north Atlantic on the voyage to San Francisco, a carrier pigeon, hungry and nearly exhausted, flew into the rigging. The bird was caught and fed by the sailors. The pigeon bore no message, but around one leg was a silver ring.

It was thought by the seamen that the pigeon would bring good luck to the Parthia. The crew christened the bird Mike, and it became a favorite.

The coming of the pigeon was the only incident to break the monotony of the long voyage around the Horn until the noon of Sept. 27, when a sailor discovered smoke coming out of the after hold, near the mizzenmast. The ship was then 450 miles west of Chile.

Captain Carter said at once it must be a case of spontaneous combustion in the coal, the beginning of so many fires that have destroyed great ships. The crew couldn't get at the blaze, for if they opened the hatches, the fumes would burst forth and every opening would be a volcano.

Captain Carter called all hands aft. There were 27 men. He told them their only hope lay in taking to the boats. Three were at once provisioned and equipped with sails and nautical instruments. Plenty of fresh water was stowed aboard. It was determined to stand by the ship as long as possible, and she was steered toward the land.

The next day the smoke, heat and gas had become almost overpowering. The cabins were too hot to stay in. Nothing could be done inside the ship, and the water in the bunks was so hot that it had to be cooled before drinking.

A strong gale had sprung out of the northwest and blew with fury for two days. On the second day of the storm the whole ship became so uncomfortable and unsafe that Captain Carter gave the command for all hands to take to the boats at 6 p. m. The doomed Parthia was then 400 miles from the Chilean coast.

Captain Carter and eight men took the longboat. Chief Mate Nicolas and eight men had the second, and Second Mate R. A. Crocker and eight sailors the third.

All night the crew, loyal to their ship, stood by to see the last incident in her brief, awful history. One hour after quitting the Parthia flames burst through the decks, the force of expanding gas hurling the hatches skyward with a succession of booms.

The pine spars and batten lines were food for the flames, which crackled from shrouds to yards. The ocean was lighted up for miles about, and the heat was so intense that the three boat crews had to pull far away.

Credling round and round the blazing ship all night was Mike. The pigeon appeared fascinated by the fire, and tried repeatedly to light on the spars. Captain Carter believed Mike finally became a victim to the flames. With a shriek and a prolonged hiss the Parthia sank into the Pacific, leaving only a few splintering, charred timbers tossing on the waves.

On account of the direction of the wind Captain Carter deemed it best to sail with it for Juan Fernandez, Robinson Crusoe's island, 400 miles to the northwest. The gale blew worse than ever, and the sky was black. Captain Carter lost sight of the other two boats between 2 and 3 p. m. next day, and did not sight them again.

The sailors had constantly to bail the longboat, and their belongings, except food, water, clothing and instruments, were thrown into the sea.

After a full of days and another storm of 24 hours, the captain's longboat landed at Juan Fernandez Oct. 9, after eight days of exposure. The boat with the first mate and eight more sailors arrived at the island the day after.

Alfred de Rod, a man of German parentage, represents the Chilean government on Robinson Crusoe's island. He has the title of governor, and lords over the 40 or 45 persons now on the island.

Captain Carter speaks gratefully of the governor's treatment of the Parthia's distressed seamen. Governor de Rod, Captain Carter says, has for years befriended from 30 to 35 shipwrecked American seamen a season, and has never received the slightest recognition from the government of the United States.

On Oct. 19 a Chilean man-of-war put in from Valparaiso to inquire after Captain Carter and the men. The commander brought a tale of suffering from Second Mate Crocker's longboat of sailors more thrilling than that of the others. Mate Crocker had become scared during the first blow after leaving the Parthia, and had steered down east, for the Chilean coast. The water in the cask got low, and his men were put on short allowance. There was plenty of salt pork, but they could not eat it without drink. On the sixth day, said David Jones, a Welsh seaman, who could not speak English, thinking nobody was looking, stole a long drink out of the cask. He forgot to put back the plug, and all the water ran out of the cask. Next day the nine men had not a drop of water to drink.

The had confessed, and the sailors were for cutting his throat and throwing him overboard, but Mate Crocker told them Jones should stay in the boat as long as he did.

For seven days the boat went without water and the sufferings of the men were frightful. Again and again they attempted to take up the salt water, but Mate Crocker restrained them. On the sixth day after the water was exhausted Jones leaped over the side and took a long, deep draft of sea water. He fell into the bottom of the boat in a terrible palsy and died after five hours of suffering. They threw him overboard, then, fate having worked the punishment they had in mind to inflict.

That same day, 60 miles from Valparaiso, the boat encountered the steel hull of the burned coal ship Garfield. They recognized her, for the Garfield had loaded with coal for Valparaiso at the next pier in Liverpool and had sailed at the same time.

It was a coincidence of fate. The Garfield had been deserted for the same reason as the Parthia on Oct. 9.

Mate Crocker boarded the hull in search of water, but the hull had burned out of the steel shell. Next day the boat reached Valparaiso, and a war vessel was sent after the other boats.

The American consul sent the men north, and they have just landed in New York and related the above story of their adventures.—New York World.

FOR FUTURE DEBSES.

Bill to Be Presented to Congress by the American Federation of Labor.

The American Federation of Labor has made public the text of the bill to restrict the jurisdiction of courts of the United States in proceedings of contempt which it will present to congress. The bill is the outgrowth of what organized labor calls the "persecution" of Eugene V. Debs and the other labor leaders who were engaged in the great railroad strike last year. The bill is:

"Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled, That the courts of the United States, sitting as courts of equity, shall not have jurisdiction to punish for contempt any person charged with the violation of any order or decree of courts whose acts in the premises constitute, arise out of, or are connected with the commission of any offense indictable under the law of the United States or of the state in which the offense was committed, but in every such case the offense against the court shall be deemed merged in the greater offense against the state or the United States, as the case may be."

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Minnich Returns to Be Tried For an Old Crime.

Quite a stir was created at Salverville, Ky., by the appearance of William Minnich, who killed a man named William Ward in the year 1866, by striking him in the head with an old fashioned skillet handle. Minnich, fearing the law, went to Missouri, where he changed his name to Burns, and where he has since resided.

He is now a lawyer of some note and a minister of the M. E. church, and has caused considerable excitement since he returned by his eloquent sermons. His wife did not know his real name until they reached his former home. Minnich's case has long since been laid away, but he says he will have it re-decided at the next term of the Magistrate's court, and that he does not fear a trial, as he acted in self defense.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Can't Use Preservatives.

The Pennsylvania department of agriculture has devoted considerable attention to the so-called "preservatives," now commonly advertised for the preservation of cider, milk and other articles of food. In every case it is found that they are composed of some form of boracic acid, and in some cases salicylic acid. When added to milk according to directions, one pint of milk contains from nine to ten grains of the drug.

The medicinal dose is from 5 grains to 30 grains. The department of agriculture has decided that the use of the "preservatives" is injurious to public health and that they come under the provisions of the pure food act. Persons using or selling them are liable to conviction and fine.

Callie Fourteen Hundred Miles Long.

This enterprise is being carried out by an English company under an exclusive contract with the Brazilian government. The line will be 1,400 miles long and will have 16 intermediate stations.

Football In Africa.

Englishmen have introduced football into the Lake Nyassa region. At Kotakota, a few years ago the greatest show place this fall was therefore a great mixed teams of blacks and whites meet every Saturday. The negroes, however, refuse to wear shoes, playing in their bare feet.

A Jewel of a Bird.

While Mr. James Williams of Jeffersonville, Ind., was dressing a turkey for dinner he found in the bird's crop a diamond solitaire the size of a pea. The fowl came from a farm close to a picnic ground, and it is thought that it picked up the jewel near there.

HORSE SHOW RIG.

Breed and Train Animals Like This and Make It Pay.

The horse show at New York once more proved what we have told our readers often—that the rearing of fashionable riding and driving horses pays well. The animals exhibited were held at extravagant prices. One could scarcely imagine the variety of the two classes. Of drivers there were ponies, heavy, high stepping park and street carriage horses, fast trotters, big, strong as well as speedy and well matched animals for the millionaire's coaching parties and handsome, swift goers for light hauling, such as are wanted for grocer and dry goods wagons.

The various kinds of driving horses for city streets and parks were in the ascendant. The illustration shows a favorite type of one variety, the animal to suit a phaeton driven by a lady. He may be 15 hands high, or slightly under, of good color; bay and brown are the favorites. He need not be very speedy, but he must hold his head up like a hackney, and be very gentle, intelligent and tractable, as well as perfectly broken. The picture, with the groom standing like a ramrod at the horse's head, is true to life.

Those who wish to get good prices for their stock should not send it to market till it is perfectly broken. That means that an animal must not shy at anything, from a bicycle to a train of cars or a moving umbrella. The methods employed by Professor Oscar R. Gleason and described in his book show perfectly the means of training a horse so that it will not frighten at anything.

Next the horse must be taught to drive single or double. If in addition it can be utilized as a riding horse, its value will be greatly increased. There is a superstition that a horse cannot be at the same time a good rider and driver, but this has been exploded.

Of riding horses at the show there were hunters and jumpers, the high school animals that showed off their tricks and paced before a gaping multitude and just good, plain all round saddlers that are equal to a center of many miles over a country road of a morning.

Florida Will Raise Beef and Milk.

The desirability of Florida as a state for the production of meat and dairy products is set forth in a letter from Mr. E. T. McCarty, who is manager of the colony which is making such a success at White City, Fla. Mr. McCarty writes as follows:

"It is now thoroughly settled that diversity of industries is the safe policy for Floridians to pursue. We must produce our own staples, food and breadstuffs. Prominent among the necessities are beef, milk, butter and cheese. These constitute a large part of the food of humanity. They are all the products of the cow in some form. It follows, therefore, that we in south Florida must cultivate a closer acquaintance with this animal of manifold usefulness. That this should have been so long neglected is surprising. We have a climate where no shelter is needed during the entire year, where the range is unlimited and where the laws guarantee protection to the cattle business."

"Stock and range cattle are remarkably cheap, and they require only grading up to largely enhance their value. This is very easily and cheaply accomplished. The introduction of a few choice males of good beef and milk producing strains would work a revolution in the appearance and value of our cattle in a few years. This has been done with gratifying success and profit in some parts of the state."

"Lower Brevard county has thousands of acres of the choicest pasturage free for the taking and so surrounded by rivers as to be practically fenced by nature. The territory adjacent to White City, on the St. Lucie river, is of this character."

"In a country requiring so much chemical fertilizer the manure produced by cattle has an especial value. The conversion of our homeless supply of native grass into some of fertility is not to be despised. Hides and bones are also valuable. The writer is thoroughly convinced that as a field for investment the cattle business of south Brevard will well repay investigation and fully justify the impressions that have grown upon him during the past six months."

Mr. McCarty's views could be applied with equal force to many other portions of the south.—Manufacturers' Record.

Fat Cattle Show.

Since the memory of man New York city has scarcely had a real fat cattle show. New Yorkers run to jumping horses. The fat stock show which took place this fall was therefore a great rarity in its way, and considering that it was held in New York and not in some western city in the midst of an agricultural district it was really very creditable. Besides the fat cattle, fat sheep, swine and all kinds of poultry were exhibited; also eggs, butter, cheese and fruits, vegetables and flowers. If London had not made the thing fashionable by its great animal exhibition in Agricultural hall, New York would never have had the nerve to carry through a fat stock show.

NORTHWESTERN HOG DISEASE.

The Strange Plague Makes Thorough Work Wherever It Goes.

There is a disease which has prevailed for several weeks in the southern part of the county has finally struck several herds in this vicinity. About 30 head have died out of one very fine herd on the farm of Hon. H. W. Holley, adjoining town. Others show signs of being diseased. A farmer near Huntley lost several and then offered the rest of his herd for $1. But the 40 fine hogs remaining were not considered a bargain even at that figure. The plague is working gradually northward and makes pretty thorough work where it goes. It is hoped that the cold weather may soon check the ravages of the plague.

W. A. Miller, a successful farmer and a close observer, says the disease is not cholera. It is a lung trouble. Many others agree with him in that. He describes the disease to dust. There have been several dry seasons in succession, making the yards and pastures very dry. In moving about the swine stir up and inhale the dust. In addition to that most farmers throw feed on the ground for their hogs, so that in eating they are constantly stirring a great deal of dust and inhaling it. This has led to weakness and disease of the lungs and has become contagious. Mr. Miller is building a large floor and will hereafter feed his herd in a clean place. The ravages of the plague will be worth the entire cost to the farmers if it teaches them to give their hogs cleaner yards and feeding troughs and floors where they can get their food without so large a percentage of filth. Some farmers have already changed their plans for next year's crop and will plant less corn because they fear to trust to a herd of swine to feed. In answer to that Mr. Miller said that when the plague prevailed here 16 years ago and many very large herds were lost, those who went on breeding and building up their herds again were successful and no signs of the plague were seen the following season nor in any season up to the present time. All remedies used—and everything imaginable has been tried—have so far proved useless after the plague once gets hold. Many have great confidence in asafetida as a preventive.—St. Paul Press.

The New Swine Plague.

The fundamental principle in dealing with an outbreak of disease in the swine herd is to separate the well hogs from the sick hogs, not to take the sick hogs away from the healthy swine, leaving the latter confined on the ground which the herd occupied when the disease developed. Leave the sick hogs where they were when the illness appeared and remove to other quarters those apparently not yet affected. If the pigs are permitted to occupy the pens and yards in which some have sickened and died, it is altogether probable that the infection will spread until it carries off the herd or all but the few that are strong enough to resist the encroachment of the plague or survive an attack of it. The disease spreads by infection of the ground. Hence healthy hogs should not be allowed on ground or in pens where swine have died from the plague.—Breeder's Gazette.

Live Stock Points.

At the pace at which young hogs are raised now, one season does them up. It is proposed to reduce the standard in trotting races from best three heats in five to best two in three.

A correspondent of the London Live Stock Journal is frank and honest enough to say of the United States cattle shipping vessels, "They are now fitted up to perfection, as a rule, and the quality and condition of the great bulk of the cattle landed here would be a surprise to many."

Successful and systematic hog raisers have a set of numbered ear tags by which they mark each one of every litter of pigs as soon as it comes. Besides this a book is kept, in which the history of each litter is registered, with pedigree, description, dates and other facts. If hogs are bought or sold, a record and date of sale or purchase are made every time.

A man who buys steers for fattening says that if a Shorthorn and Holstein are offered together for sale, the Shorthorn is always taken first. He is more even of surface than the Holstein—not so many hills and hollows.

The Russian war office has discovered, or thinks it has discovered, that gray horses have more strength and endurance than brown ones. Gray will therefore be henceforth the color of Russian artillery teams.

When a horse is really lame in his shoulder, he will drag the foot on that side and will fling it outward a little when he stops. Shoulder lameness also makes it difficult for the animal to step over a bar placed a foot or 14 inches from the ground. A blister of equal parts ammonia and sweet oil well shaken together is recommended for shoulder lameness. The blister will be raised by applying the liniment once or twice. After it is healed, if the lameness continues, the joint should be applied again.

A BRAWL

Results in the Arrest of Dutch Rose and Ella Stevenson.

The Former is Given a Jail Sentence and the Stevenson Woman Ordered to Leave Town—Rose's Stepfather Fined.

In a house on Pennsylvania avenue, east of Pine street, yesterday afternoon, occurred a brawl, in the early stages of which considerable beer probably figured prominently, and the sequel of which is a jail sentence for Rose Emminger, better known as "Dutch" Rose, a fine imposed upon her stepfather, Chas. Hammon, and a request to leave the city extended to a woman known by the name of Ella Stevenson.

The first the police knew of the affair was when Hammon was seen running down the P., Ft. W. & C. R. K. track, bleeding from a gash in one of his wrists. He went directly to police station and stated that Rose had cut his wrist with a butcher knife. A charge of disorderly conduct was placed against the woman and special policeman Gus Miller was detailed to arrest her. She had left home before the officer arrived but she was found and taken to the police station in a hack. This morning she was arraigned before the mayor and was sentenced to ten days imprisonment in the city prison. Her sister also appeared before the mayor this morning and signed two affidavits—one charging Hammon with disorderly conduct, and the other charging Ella Stevenson, who has been staying in the house with the Emminger woman, with being a woman of ill repute.

The Stevenson woman was taken before the mayor by Patrolman Lehman. She was promised that if she would leave the city the charge would not be prosecuted. She promised to leave immediately and was released. Hammon was the last victim. He heard that Policeman Lehman was looking for him and hustled to the police, thinking perhaps that he had to appear against his stepdaughter, whose arrest he had caused. The charge was read to him and he pleaded guilty and was fined $5.00, which he promised to pay.

FOR 1896.

Hoover Bros. Preparing to Go Into the Wholesale Bicycle Trade.

Large Orders Have Already Been Placed With Leading Manufacturers.

The remarkable growth of this firm has been one of the wonders of the progress of Lima; and now with their past experience to guide them they are about to take another step forward. From a small beginning in 1889 they have grown out of their quarters almost as soon as they were fairly settled, and the end is not yet.

Fully alive to the demands of the present age and quick to see the point of advantage that Lima possesses as a shipping point, they have decided to enter the wholesale trade during the coming season.

To this end they yesterday gave an order to one concern for 100 wheels to be delivered Jan. 15 and Feb. 15, besides other large orders that have been placed with a half dozen leading bicycle manufacturers.

In 1895 Hoover Bros. sold more bicycles than all the other dealers in Lima combined. They have never done anything by halves and are to be congratulated on their new enterprise, especially as they were the first firm in the city to carry a line of bicycles, they having brought a large assortment to Lima in 1890.

Out of 500 wheels handled during the season of '95, 20, of different makes, still remain on hand and they must be closed out to make room for the new stock that will soon arrive in car load lots. By buying now a person can get almost his own price, and as there is not a day during the entire year that a wheel cannot be used, all who anticipate purchasing should take advantage of the opportunity.

Now is an excellent time to procure your boy or girl an elegant Christmas present.

Latham McClure, of the Carnes block, fell on the ice this morning at 8 o'clock, while going to do some work for Jacob Custer, and broke his shoulder blade.

A clothes line loaded with underwear was left in the yard at the rear of Hugh Patton, Sr.'s, place opposite the P., Ft. W. & C. depot last night and this morning several of the garments were missing. The police were notified.

RUNAWAY GIRLS.

Two Wapakoneta Maidens Found in South Lima by Chief Haller.

This morning, Chief Haller received a letter from Miss Annie Hagen, of Wapakoneta, stating that her 16-year-old sister, Lulu Hagen, had disappeared from her home in that place and had not been seen since last Sunday. The letter stated that a girl named Bessie Humaman was thought to have accompanied the Hagen girl.

Almost before the chief had finished reading the letter, the young lady who had written it, appeared at the police station and said that she was quite sure that her sister was here and that she had come for the purpose of taking her home.

Chief Haller started out to hunt the two missing girls and met them at Main and Kibby streets. The Hagen girl returned home with her sister this afternoon, but the Humaman girl remained in this city.
